Mother Killed Five Children

And Ends Life

NORWALK, Ia., Nov. 1.—(P)
Neighbors aided a grif-sticken father today in making funeral arrangements for a 25-year-old mother, who shot and killed five of her seven children and herself.
The mother, Mrs. G. R. Mc-Aninch, who fired a charge from a smallbore shotgun into the forehead of each child, said in a note found beside an open Bible she apparently had been reading that she did not have enough shells to take all their lives.
The two surviving children, Ray, 15, and Gall, 11, came upon the bodies Saturday night when they returned home from a Hallowe're celebration.

In a note addressed to them, the mother said: "You will find us dead this morning, Don't get excited." After advising them what to do, she added: "I can take and best to take the kids along. All that saves you boys is no more shells."

Lower Margins Fail Cause Rush Stock Market

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—(?)— There was no rush of new buy-ers in stock market today, de-spite inauguration of the new lower margin requirements on long purchases.

Trading was modest and orderly, and prices in fact, sagged in early dealings, even though the new federal reserve requirements, placed in effect today, permit purchase of stocks on 40 per cent margin, against 55 per cent previously.

The new regulations, while permitting long purchases with less capital, mostly require more collateral on short transactions, short sale margins being changed from $10 a share to 50 per cent of market value.

MOONEY PETITION ON HABEAS CORPUS REJECTED SATURDAY

PROMPT APPEAL TO U. S. SUPREME COURT ANNOUNC-ED BY ATTORNEYS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. supreme court today denied Thomas J. Mooney's plea for freedom on a writ of habeas corpus. The decision was five to one, with Justice William H. Langdon dissenting.

H. Langdon dissenting.
In announcing the opinion, Chief Justice William H. Waste stated the court "has concluded that Mooney failed to establish by substantial credible evidence that his conviction was the result of perjury on the part of prosecution witnesses."

The chief justice said Mooney also failed to show "that the prosecuting officers caused or suffered to be introduced at his trial any testimony which they knew or had any reason to believe was false, or that they were guilty of suppressing or preventing the introduction of any evidence which, had it been given, would have been favorable to the defense at his trial."

George T. Davis, Mooney's attor-

George T. Davis, Mooney's attorney, declared the case would be carried promptly to the United States supreme court.

Mooney has steadfastly asserted his innocence, contending he was convicted by perjured testimony.

Today's decision was the long-awaited outcome of an application for release on habeas corpus filed two and & half years ago with the California court.

Hearings occupied a year, and deliberations six months.

Previously the United States supreme court had denied Mooney a writ, saying he had not exhausted all avenues to freedom through the California courts.

Ha. Made Long Fight for Freedom

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—(4).
—Thomas J. Mooney, whose murder conviction in the 1916 Preparedness Day bombing has been argued the world over, learns today whether the state supreme court will grant his plea for freedom on a writ of habeas corpus.

At 10 a. m. (Pacific Standard time), the tribunal will make public its ruling in a decision which Chief Justice William H. Waste implied would be voluminous.

Chief Justice William H. Waste implied would be voluminous.

Mooney, whose charge of "frameup" has become a battle ery among the world's laboring classes, will be informed of the decision in San Quentin penitentiary by his attorney, George Davis.

For nearly 21 years, the greying prisoner has fought to prove his contention that his political beliefs and labor organizing activities led to his conviction on perjured evidence.

Mooney and his co-defendant, Warren K. Billings, were found guilty of placing a bomb which exploded on lower Market street, Lilling 10 possess and histoine 40 killing 10 persons and injuring 40 at the start of the San Francisco (Spl.)—A banner year in farm and home activities is indicated for Texas farm families in a prelimnary report compiled by the extension service division of Texas A and M. College, Director H. H. Williamson has announced.

While insects on one hand and bumper crops on the other brought many problems, improvements on farms and ranches and in homes are going forward at a satisfactory pace, Williamson indicated.

Grasshoppers threatened the rec-

Grasshoppers threatened the rec-ord wheat and feed crops of Northwestern Texas, but swift ac-tion and effective co-operation between the farmers, the extension service, and the federal government halted the insects and prevented an estimated five million dollar loss, Williamson said. The agricultural conservation program has resulted in the list-ing of some 56 million acres of range land for improvement. Besides the construction of dams, spreader terraces, and similar practices, 150,000 acres of range land has been contoured to hold nainfall and encourage grass production. County owned equipment alone has accounted for the teracing of more than 400,000 acres of farm land, and 1 1-2 million acres were planted to summer legions.

Home food supply demonstrations have resulted in the canning of more than 16 million pints of fruits and vegetables and the storpinf of four million pounds of dried products and 3 1-2 million pounds of cured meats. These figures represent a 10 to 15 per cent increase over 1936 totals. The 67,000 home demonstration club women and 4-H club girls in the state are following the lead of some 2,000 demonstrators in home limprovement, according to Wilimprovement, according to

Meetings to discuss cotton im-provement have been held in 81 counties, and information on this subject will be carried to all the principal cotton producing counties. Williamson estimated that 200 new one variety cotton communities would be added in 1938 to the 61 in operation in 1937.

Then it was promptly considered, rewritten to include economy provisions, expeditiously passed and returned to the house.

The senate added provisions for economy and reallocation of funds and provide adequate revenues for the entire social security program. When the bill, as amended by the senate, got back to the house the economy provision was stricken out by the speaker on grounds it was outside the special session call. This objection could have been cured easily by a message from the governor submitting the subject. The senate amendment thus stricken out provided $2,500,000 additional for old age assistance.

> Mr. John J. Bryant Cotton Breeder Corsicana, Texas

Dear Sir:

Last year I gave your Bryant Cotton a thorough test. Competent cotton buyers informed me that Bryant staple was around 11-16 inch, fully 1-16th longer than other big boll varieties in this section. The turnout and general character convinced me that it was the most profitable cotton to raise. Owing to its vigorous growth and early maturing it gets ahead of the insects. as you know this letter was unsolicited, but as my own welfare depends largely upon the success of the farmers near me, I am greatly interested in seeing as much Bryant Cotton planted as possible for I know it's more net profit to all of us to plant it.

Very truly yours, F. H. THOMPSON Midway, Texas

Bryant Cotton has a good inch staple, I find it to be the best variety I have ever used. It makes a better yield, the turnout is from 40 to 42 per cent lint; the bolls are five lock and easy to pick. It is a drouth resisting plant, maturing early and Very truly yours, W. E, BEENE Greenville, Texas.

Around 95 per cent of the cotton grown in this community is Bryant strain. It has won its place in hard competition with other well known varieties strictly on its ability to outyield them in dollars per acre.

The easier tone of the stock market also influenced sentiment. Southern hedge selling was somewhat larger.

Some resistance was shown as all positions but next October sold belowing.

Trading was moderately active on the decline that carried March off from 7.96 to 7.91. Shortly after the first half hour it was selling at 7.94 and the list was 5 to 6 points net lower. The market was under pressure of hedge selling, New Orleans and local liquidation.

The first private end-October crop estimate pointed to production of 17.788. 000 bales and a yield pe acre of 252.3 pounds.

March, which had eased to 7.91, was 7.94 by midday when the list was 1.50 and 1.70 and 1.

J. D. Rogers Farm

FAIRFIELD, Nov. 1.—(Spl.)—
A group of farmers, including a part of the cotton improvement committee, the county agent and W. A. Parker, went to Navasota Wednesday to inspect the cotton breeding farm of John D. Rogers, for the purpose of considering the selection of variety of seed to be grown in a one variety project in the Fairfield territory.

The farm cotton breeder, Mr. McDonald, was host to the group and gave a very interesting summary of how the breeding program of the farm was carried out. After the tour of the farm and plant was completed the group inspected the experiment station, results of the John D. Rogers cotton as compared to other cottons.

Those going on the trip were J. W. Richards, Jr., W. A. Parker, A. H. Bass, L. T. Kay, J. R. B. Cain, W. K. Bonner, Guy Coleman, L. H. Burton, J. S. Ivy and J. F. Aultman.

AUSTIN, Oct. 29.—(P)—Speaker Robert W. Calvert's decision to be guided by an opinion of the attorney general's department on admissibility of a bill legalizing mixed drink sales of hard liquor in the recent specal session of the legislature caused considerable comment about the capsiderable comment about the cap-meetings being held over the state in an effort to interest producers in securing a better staple and also to discuss the advantages of one-variety communities.

Mr. Robinson pointed out that isome spinners will not take Texas and Oklahoma cotton due to the short staple and a number of experts will appear on this program Friday. Included in the spoakers will be F. E. Lichte, extension cott-ton. He ruled it was within the special session call. Calvert then permitted consideration although the personally of the opinion it should have been thrown out.

The speaker meanwhile had asked the attorney general's department for an opinion on sixtended four outside the call. These include one passed by the senate proposing to trim departmental appropriations.

Scott Gaines, who delivered the opinion to Calvert, pointed out, however, that "the question of whe'her a particular bill comes within the subjects of the governor's proclamation calling a special session is purely a matter of opinion x x x and in view of the fact it is your duty and responsibility to pass upon these questions finally and conclusively and responsibility to pass upon these questions finally and conclusively and responsibility to pass upon these questions finally and conclusively and responsibility to pass upon these questions finally and conclusively and responsibility to pass upon these questions finally and conclusively and responsibility to pass upon these questions finally and conclusively and responsibility to pass upon these questions finally and conclusively and responsibility to pass upon these questions finally and conclusively and responsibility to pass upon these questions finally and conclusively and responsibility to pass upon these questions finally and conclusively and responsibility to pass upon these questions finally and conclusively and responsibility to pass upon these questions finally and conclusively and responsibility to pass upon these questions finally and conclusively and responsibility to pass upon these questions finally and conclusively and responsibility to pass upon these questions of the fact it is your duty and responsibility to pass upon these questions finally and conclusively and responsibility to pass upon these questions finally and conclusively and responsibility to pass upon these questions finally and conclusively and responsibility to pass upon these questions finally and conclusively and resp the status of a public utility.

In the association convention chief address today Sloan compared problems of the oil industry with those of the railroads, especially in the field of "over-taxation." He "congratulated" the oil industry on not "having had to attempt business in an economic straitfacket."

Sloan said the oil and gas industry of Texas now produced $100,000,000 a year and made payments to Texas farm owners last year amounting to 23 per cent of the value of all crops.

Charles P. McGaha of Wichita Falls was chosen the association president succeeding Jake L. Hamon of Dallas. Other officers named were George C. Gibson of Dallas, executive vice president; Eugene McElvaney of Dallas, treasurer; H. R. Cullen of Houston, vice president of the Gulf Coast district; Bryan W. Payne of Tyler, East Texas district; H. R. Stroube of Corsicana, East Central Texas district; R. L. Underwood of Wichita Falls, North Texas district; E. J. Dunigan, Jr., of Pampa, Panhandle district; J. C. Hunter, West Central Texas; Harry Adams, West Texas district, and Al Buchanan, San Antonio, Southwest Texas district. Southwest Texas district.

Southwest Texas district.

Sloan Issues Warning.
Sloan urged oil leaders to conduct their businesses with an eye to escaping "being designated as a public utility."

"You are subject to a degree of control of your operations, of course, through the interstate compact, recently renewed," he said, "and through your state conservation laws. That is a different kind of control from that imposed on railroads. It is much to your credit that the industry has co-operated with state authorities your credit that the industry has co-operated with state authorities preventing waste of this enormously valuable natural resource."

Sloan added: "Serious as your problems are, they are at least free of the additional difficulties presented by the limitations commonly imposed on concerns which must have the consent of public regulatory bodies for substantially every important action taken."

J. C. Hunter, chairman of the tax committee, said the industry could absorb no more taxation

MIDLAND, Oct. 29.—(R)—Clyde Moon, 30, convicted of car theft, was shot dead here today in an attempted break from the Midland county jail.

Lucius Davis, negro convicted of murder, took a pistol from the hand of Mrs. A. C. Francis, wife of the sheriff, and fired at his fellow prisoner. His action was credited with saving the life of Deputy Sheriff Bud Estes.

As related by officers, Deputy Estes was attacked by Moon and another prisoner, unnamed, when he opened the main jail door at breakfast time this morning. The prisoners had sawed their way out of their individual cells and surprised the officer.

Moon attacked the deputy and Estes retaliated with his ring of heavy keys. Moon was knocked down several times but managed to take Estes' pistol from its holster. At this point, Mrs. Francis appeared with a pistol and Davis, the negro convict, asked her for the weapon. She gave it to him
